

Arguments In YMCA Injunction Case Start This Morning

Union Ended Its Defense On Saturday

DEFENSE rested in the YMCA injunction case at noon Saturday.

Union and YMCA attorneys are scheduled to start their arguments at 10 this morning.

Today's argument will concern the preliminary injunction sought by the YMCA against picketing by the Electric Union Local 367.

All the defense testimony Saturday morning was given by Francis Lyons, Electric Union business agent and Cohen's chief witness.

Under Cohen's questioning Lyons went over testimony about his activities in connection with the YMCA work stoppages since 1953. He said Electric Union and Plumbers Union had no members or officers in common, and that he did not work in concert with Plumbers Union business agent, Ralph Paul.

He said he hadn't tried to prevent anyone from entering the YMCA premises.

Lyons told of talking with one of Kime's two employees, Ed Rahn, and "pointing out the benefits" of union membership. He added that Rahn said he had considered joining the Electric Union but "didn't see fit to join it at this time."

Rahn told Lyons he was satisfied with the wages Kime paid him, the business agent testified.

Lyons said he telephoned Kime after the YMCA contracts first were signed and asked him if he intended to employ union men. Kime answered that at the moment he didn't think he would, said Lyons.

"I asked if he would mind if I called later when he'd had time to think it over," Lyons said.

The union man said he telephoned Kime about two weeks later and "asked him if he had considered it." Kime said he had, and he "didn't see at this time where he could sit down and discuss the matter with me," Lyons testified.

At a job conference at the YMCA site later, Kime and Lyons talked again, the union man said.

"Kime and I got into it when the question was posed to me about his men becoming members of my local union."

Kime asked what the requirements were, Lyons said. The answer was that Kime's men would have to fill out an application for membership; pay an initiation fee; in part payments or in full; have the application read at a union meeting; have the application accepted by the union boards; take an examination if the action was favorable; and if the examination was passed, have the application voted on by the union membership, said Lyons.

Asked at an Indian Queen Hotel meeting later what advantage it would be to "be in the electrical union," Lyons answered "a contractor would be in a position to bid larger work."

The business agent said after the meeting he offered to drive Rahn home. On the way he "discussed the merits of being a union member." Lyons said Rahn asked for his business card and said he would think it over.

Referring again to the Indian Queen meeting, Lyons said "it was (Continued On Page Two)

Wood Confident Of Victory On Tuesday

COLLEGEVILLE, Pa., Oct. 31 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, Republican candidate for governor, said tonight he had "complete confidence" that Pennsylvania voters would reach "the right decision" in Tuesday's election.

"The Republican candidates have placed the issue before the people without any attempt to evade the problems that must be met in the next administration," Wood said in a statement at his Montgomery County home town.

"We have not dodged the responsibility to provide the people with the services they desire and deserve," Wood declared. "We have presented an honest and sound fiscal program."

The GOP candidate for the state's top executive post said his party has been honest in presenting the financial needs of the Commonwealth "in contrast with the empty Democratic promises of lower taxes and bigger appropriations."

Wood said the Republican campaign had been greeted "with support and enthusiasm in every area."

"We have pointed with pride to the great advances made under successive Republican administrations which I and all the other Republican candidates are pledged to support and expand," Wood declared.

FIVE CENTS

Belated GOP Spurt Faces Big Test Closest Statewide Election In Years Predicted

MRS. MARY ANN HUFF, 32, marks her fifth year in an iron lung by casting an absentee ballot for the Nov. 2 election. She voted at her home in Van Nuys, Calif., with the help of her nurse, Mrs. Hilda Vance. She did not reveal the contents of her ballot.

$250,000 Libel Suit Filed Against Sen. M. F. Crowe By Congressman Francis Walter

A $250,000 LIBEL SUIT was filed in Northampton County court Saturday by Rep. Francis E. Walter against State Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, Stroudsburg.

Rep. Walter's suit alleges Crowe libelled him in a radio-TV broadcast last Thursday. The broadcast was made from studios of station WGLV in Easton.

In a statement released when the suit was filed shortly after noon Saturday, Rep. Walter said:

"Suit has been instituted by Hogan and Scott and C. Budd Palmer (attorneys) against Montgomery Crowe, state senator of Monroe County, for $250,000 damages because of the vicious, untrue statements he made in a television broadcast from station WGLV on Oct. 28."

"The campaign being conducted against me has reached an all-time low but even though it is a typical Republican campaign, I will not permit my honesty to be questioned. The campaign has taken on this turn because the Republicans can neither honestly criticize my record nor advance any legitimate reason why anyone should vote for their candidate."

"My only regret is that under the law we are unable to proceed against the operators of the television station. The irresponsibility of radio and television stations in permitting libelous matter to be disseminated with impunity indicates the need for amendments to the federal communications laws."

This last paragraph also refers directly to a State law protecting radio and TV stations from suits arising from paid political broadcasts. The law was passed by the 1953 State legislature and was signed into law in August of that year by Gov. John S. Fine.

Rep. Walter told a Democratic rally in Stroudsburg Courthouse Friday night that he intended to file the suit. "I assure you this is not a political move," he said at that time. "The action will be pressed to the limit."

The Crowe speech alleged that Rep. Walter "and his friends... had advance notice of the winding up of bankruptcy proceedings in connection with large railroads and other corporations, bought into stocks and bonds of these companies. When the announcement became official, these stocks and bonds were unloaded and Tad and his friends cleaned up as a result."

Crowe also alleged, in his speech, that Walter "was connected with a corporation in Carbon County that sold war surplus equipment at very high prices and again, he made a clean-up."

Rep. Walter denounced both charges in his Stroudsburg speech Friday night. "This is simply not true," he said.

Seven Killed, 60 Injured

DEL RIO, Tex., Oct. 31 (AP)—Seven men were killed when a cattle truck loaded with 85 Mexican migrant workers struck a low culvert and overturned five miles northwest of here shortly before dawn today.

Sixty of the men were injured, three of them critically.

Both Sides Make Claims To Victory

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31 (AP)—The closest statewide election in years may be in store for Pennsylvania on Tuesday.

Both Republicans and Democrats, after a campaign that began in the summer months, claim they have enough strength to win—but privately some leaders looked for a close decision.

On the record, Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, said the GOP victory will be "decisive and overwhelming" without giving figures. Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman predicted a Democratic majority of 250,000 votes.

Up to four millions of the state's five million voters are expected to choose a new governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of Internal Affairs, three State Superior Court judges, 30 Congressmen and 235 members of the Legislature.

The polls open at 8 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. in 8,647 voting districts. Both national and state issues occupied the campaign which may also fix a trend for the 1956 presidential sweepstakes.

The dominant national issue is unemployment. It could have an important bearing on changing the present Pennsylvania congressional lineup of 19 Republicans and 11 Democrats.

Democrats also took to task the record of recent Republican administrations, including that of Gov. John S. Fine, on the unemployment issue.

They also fired campaign blasts at the Republican-passed one per cent sales tax.

Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic candidate for governor, pledged to let the levy expire automatically next Aug. 31. His Republican opponent, Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, said it should be continued.

Leader's tax program proposed collecting $9 million dollars by placing business taxes on a pay-as-you-go basis. While the 1955 Legislature was in recess, a study would be made of the commonwealth's finances to determine a brand new tax program, Leader explained.

Monopoly Probers To Seek Fund

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Two members of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee said today they will ask Congress for a million dollar appropriation next year to carry on the group's work.

Chairman Langer (R-N.D.) and Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said in a joint statement that "we need the funds with which to assemble a staff of experts and undertake a relentless job of inquiry, evaluation and recommendation."

The two have been conducting public hearings into the proposed Dixon-Yates private power contract, which both oppose. But they said that is only one phase of the intensive overall study of "the giant problem" of monopolistic practices and effects which they propose to study.

Langer has protested several times that the last Congress failed to appropriate any funds for work of the subcommittee. The work has been carried on with other funds and facilities available to Langer, who is chairman also of the Senate Judiciary Committee of which the subcommittee is a part.

The proposed Dixon-Yates power contract, which would be signed by the Atomic Energy Commission with two utility companies headed by Edgar H. Dixon and E. A. Yates, would provide privately produced power for transmission over Tennessee Valley Authority lines to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area.

It would replace power which the TVA now furnishes to the AEC for atomic installations in that general area.

During the subcommittee's hearings, witnesses have criticized the control which they said Dixon's firm, Middle South Utilities, Inc., exercises over subsidiaries in Mississippi and Arkansas.

42 Aboard Navy Transport Plane Lost In Atlantic Ocean Off Cape May Area

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Eastern Sea Frontier said today a Navy transport plane with 42 persons aboard is missing and presumed lost over the Atlantic Ocean.

The plane, a four-motored super Constellation, departed from Patuxent River Naval Air Station in Maryland at 9:03 p.m. yesterday. It was last heard from at 11 p.m. when about 300 miles off Cape May, N.J.

The Eastern Sea Frontier said the Navy would release the names of those aboard as soon as next of kin have been notified.

In the meantime, a massive air and sea search team is combing a ribbon of ocean, 120 miles wide, stretching from the coast of New Jersey to the Azores.

The plane, carrying 21 crew members and 21 passengers, had been bound for Port Lyautey, Africa, and the Azores.

Thrown into the search were ships and planes of the Eastern Sea Frontier in New York, the Naval Air Base in Boston and Coast Guard stations at New York City, Elizabeth, N.J., and Bermuda.

Planes from Norfolk, Va., Boston and other points on the Eastern seaboard, as well as from Newfoundland and the Azores, joined in the hunt.

The Eastern Sea Frontier said at 6 p.m. that the rolling surface of the ocean had yielded no clues as to the plane's fate.

Search conditions today were reported generally favorable, with partly cloudy skies and only light winds. The coming of dusk, however, was expected to hamper the operation.

The flight on which the plane disappeared was a routine logistics trip. Half of the plane's personnel were to be shifted to take over another plane in the Azores.

It was explained that Navy procedure is for planes to maintain hourly contact with land while flying over the sea.

If they are unable for two consecutive hours to contact land, they are directed to turn back.

The last contact with the missing transport came when it made a routine position report. Search operations began two hours later when there was no further word.

School Union Must Obtain Majority In All Districts Tomorrow To Be Workable

A STRICTLY non-partisan proposal seems destined to overshadow all political races in three Monroe County districts in tomorrow's election.

The proposal is for a three-district school union. It will include Stroud Township, Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap—if approved by the voters in all three districts.

A simple majority vote in each of the three districts will "carry" and approve the proposal. To win approval, however, the union proposal must be endorsed by a majority of the voters in all three areas.

This means that if Stroudsburg and Stroud Township voters approve the move but Delaware Water Gap does not endorse it, the whole proposal is thrown out, for example.

Voters in Stroudsburg will cast their ballots in the regular five ward voting places. Stroud Township voters are cast in three locations — Anasomink, Arlington Heights and Cherry Valley. There is only one voting place in Delaware Water Gap.

The move for a union school district has been carried out with the full endorsement of board members in all three areas. Individual board approval of the idea was given only after a lengthy series of meetings conducted to investigate the full possibilities of union.

During the past three months Parent-Teachers groups have taken over the job of discussing the proposed union with meetings in Stroud Township, Stroudsburg and Water Gap.

Interest in the move has run high during the weeks before the election. When the voters go to the polls Tuesday they are asked to vote a simple "Yes" or "No" ballot in favor of or against the union.

Destroyers, Sub Collide

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 31 (AP)—Three destroyers and a submarine were damaged in two collisions in heavy seas early today while they were engaged in anti-submarine warfare exercises some 270 miles east of Norfolk.

There were no personnel casualties, an Atlantic Fleet spokesman said in reporting the collisions.

U. N. General Assembly Is Bugged Down

By A. I. GOLDBERG

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Oct. 31 (AP)—The ninth U. N. General Assembly was at its scheduled halfway point today with a do-little record and serious doubts it can clean up its schedule by Dec. 10.

That is the target date for winding up the Assembly, which opened Sept. 21. Some secretariat members have begun to discuss the probability of another Christmas recess with the Assembly coming back after Jan. 1. U. S. sources have indicated they will fight this.

The Assembly's main Political Committee is now bogged down in the question of collective measures and no certainty when America's Charles Mahoney will make his policy speech.

It has been three weeks since the Political Committee began to work and has set a record of unanimity on disarmament procedures. But the Assembly itself has still to take up that question and the committee has at least seven other subjects on its agenda.

On Tuesday the Assembly Steering Committee is almost certain to add at least one other item, the Soviet Union's complaint that the United States is guilty of aggression in the area of Formosa.

The committee and the Assembly two weeks ago postponed action on adding the item. But the United States, which announced then it wasn't running away from anything, was reported ready now to welcome debate on the charge.

Adding that item and possibly Soviet charges of piracy leveled at the Nationalist Chinese would interfere with hotly disputed current agenda items on Tunis, Morocco, Cyprus, and West New Guinea.

Nearly 18,000 Monroe County Voters Will Help Determine Next State Administration

NEARLY 18,000 Monroe County voters will be eligible to cast ballots tomorrow when the polls open at 7 a.m.

By the time polls close at 8 p.m., they and millions of other Pennsylvania voters will have determined whether Republican or Democratic administration will conduct State affairs in the coming year.

Republicans have been controlling for 16 years, and much of the campaign interest centers on whether or not there will be changes.

The voting machine labels will be fairly short in most Monroe districts, with only nine columns of names.

Focus of the day will be on the governorship, with Republican Lloyd H. Wood opposing Democrat George M. Leader.

In the lieutenant-governor race Republican Frank F. Truscott opposes Democrat Roy E. Furman.

Women are the choices in both parties, for secretary of internal affairs: Republican Gaynelle M. Dixon versus Democrat Genevieve Blatt.

At the local district level Stroudsburg Republican LeRoy Mikels is opposing veteran U. S. Congressman Francis K. Walter, the Democratic incumbent.

William Z. Scott of Carbon County is seeking the post of State senator on the Republican ticket. Opposing is John A. Brislin, Democrat, a Delaware Water Gap hotel operator.

For State assemblyman John S. Shotwell, Effort Republican, opposes Van D. Yetter Jr., Democrat from Marshalls Creek.

Three posts will be open on the superior court bench.

Incumbents are Judge Robert E. Woodside, Republican, and Democrats F. Clair Ross and Chester H. Rhoades of Stroudsburg.

Woodside is listed on both party tickets. Opposing Ross and Rhoades are Republicans Ralph T. Bell and George W. Griffith.

No minor parties have put up full slates. Running on the Prohibition ticket are Charles Palmer for superior court and Francis I. Miller for lieutenant governor; and on the Progressive ticket, Henry Beitscher, Alexander Wright and Elizabeth P. Frazier for governor, lieutenant governor and internal affairs respectively; and for the Socialist Labor Party, Louis Dirle, Frank Knotek and Thomas Grady for the same posts.

AP Writers' Survey Shows Race Is Close

Editor's Note—Tomorrow the voters will decide whether the Eisenhower administration is to have a Republican or a Democratic controlled Congress during the next two years.

For the past several weeks The Associated Press has had five of its top political writers probing sentiment in all parts of the country. They have reported their findings from more than a score of states and then summarized their own observations, plus late-hour developments, in a series of regional stories.

Today these reporters — Jack Bell, Douglas B. Cornett, Morris Landau, Reiman Morin and Don Whitehead — made a last minute check by telephone and telegraph on their spot surveys. With the assistance of AP bureaus, here is what they report.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower and other Republican campaigners apparently have sparked the GOP into an eleventh hour political spurt.

It could succeed. But it may not be strong enough or have come soon enough to overcome a seeming Democratic lead in the great battle for control of Congress in Tuesday's election.

In the campaign windup, Eisenhower and his political lieutenants have been able to better than the idea that the President has to have a Republican Congress. Democrats still expect to cash in on unemployment and lower farm incomes.

That's the outlook now, two days before the balloting, on the basis of spot checks today by Associated Press reporters in the field and on the telephone.

With the promised vote of Independent Wayne Morse of Oregon, the Democrats need a net gain of only two seats to control the Senate in the 84th Congress. They can take over the House with a gain of three seats. And the pattern for half a century usually has been for the party in power to lose House and Senate strength in a nonpresidential election year.

There still are signs that the usual off-year trend may be in the cards.

While the real answer to what is happening in the final skirmishing along the political firing lines will appear only in the ballot boxes Tuesday, even some Democratic leaders at various points around the country concede the GOP has made last minute advance.

Whether or not it has changed the actual complexion of election contests, the evident Republican spurge at least appears to have strengthened GOP chances further in states where the party was ahead and closed some of the gaps in areas in which the Republicans were considered trailing.

In some places, it seems to have cut down Democratic prospects of picking up House seats. All across the nation, it appears to have lightened key races for Senate and governor seats — not in all states but in such ones as:

Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia in the East; Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa and Kentucky in the Midwest and on the border; Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Arizona in the Far West. In Arizona, polls and opinions of political experts indicate there has been a switch and Ernest W. McFarland, former Democratic leader of the U. S. Senate, now is running second to Republican incumbent Howard Pyle for governor.

But in Ohio, where the GOP hopes to gain a Senate seat, there were belated signs the Democrats might be inching up, even though this was one of the states Eisenhower picked for a last minute campaign appearance. There it's Democratic incumbent Thomas A. Burke against Republican Rep. George H. Bender.

Kentucky now may be a tossup, although there is a general feeling that former Vice President Alben W. Barkley still is likely to knock over GOP Sen. John Sherman Cooper and return to the Senate. Eisenhower showed up in Kentucky last week, too.

Union Ended Its Defense On Saturday

mentioned that Mr. Kime should have an opportunity to look over our contract," Lyons said. He "couldn't recall" who made that suggestion.

He answered he would "get him one if he cared to have it," said Lyons, and added that he didn't remember Kime raising any objection.

The business agent said he took a contract to Kime's shop shortly after because he was "anxious to talk to him man-to-man."

Lyons said he understood Kime had had "some unpleasant relationship with a union representative in the past," and that he was "interested in cementing our relationship."

He and Kime parted on "friendly terms," Lyons said.

The business agent said he and Kime talked again at Kime's office. He asked if Kime had had any "further thoughts on the matter." Kime said no.

Lyons said he did not ask Kime to sign a union contract.

Attorney Arlington W. Williams dug into this point at once on cross examination.

He wanted to know if Lyons wanted Kime to sign the contract.

Lyons said he knew if Kime signed the contract he would be required to hire only union labor; that if Kime's men refused to join the union they would have to be fired; and that up to that point he had been unable to induce Kime's men to join the union.

"Yet you gave him the contract?" queried Williams.

Lyons said that "in a sense" he gave Kime the contract "in the hope that he would sign it."

He said he had still not got consent of Kime's men to act for them.

In answer to Williams' question, Lyons said he had never contacted Ralph L. Shively, Kime's worker at the YMCA job; he had only contacted Rahn.

Williams turned from this line of questioning to pursue possibilities of agreements in connection with picketing.

Lyons said it was true he and Paul conferred occasionally. He gave several answers indicating he and Paul pursued separate courses in conducting the affairs of the two unions.

"Why did Paul go to Kime's shop with you?" when the contract was left with Kime, Williams wanted to know.

"He just tagged along," Lyons said, "because we had a later engagement."

"Do you want us to believe you and Paul have not consulted together on ways and means by which Cleveland and Kime could be brought under union contracts?" Williams went on.

Lyons said, "No—there was no strategy planned. We have a common cause . . . to see that our members are used."

"Isn't it true that you anticipated that when the picketing started, union employees of Archibald and Edinger would stop work?" queried Williams.

"We don't ask them to do that," said Lyons.

"That's not the question," Williams said.

"We expect it—yes," Lyons said.

"Did you expect the picketing would exert economic pressure on Kime to sign a union contract?"

"No," Lyons said.

"You're picketing Kime, are you not?"

"No—we're picketing the job," Lyons said.

"To inform the public no members of Local 867 are employed on the job. And to induce Kime's men to join the union."

There was a moment's pause before Williams went on.

Did you know it would be an unfair labor act for Kime to sign a union contract without the consent of his employees?"

"Yes," Lyons said.

The question of fees and dues was gone over next. Lyons testified that for a journeyman electrician, the initiation fee would be $100. Added to that would be monthly dues of $5, plus a 3 per cent assessment on the net weekly earnings of the union member.

After further questions by Cohen and Williams, Lyons was excused.

A motion by Cohen that the complaint be dismissed was denied by President Judge Fred W. Davis. Then Cohen asked that argument on the case be postponed until transcripts of the two-and-a-half days of testimony were prepared.

Williams replied the case ought not to await transcription . . .

which would take two or three weeks . . . since public funds of about half a million dollars are involved, and damage may occur at any moment.

Judge Davis set 10 a.m. Monday a side time to argue the preliminary injunction. The transcript, he said, would be made available within "reasonable time."

Lodge To Announce To U.N. That Ike Will Call Atomic Scientists For Spring Meet

By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—The details of President Eisenhower's historic plan for an international uranium pool for peaceful purposes will be formally laid before the United Nations this week.

The presentation will be made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who offers a resolution for UN approval of the American proposal.

Lodge will also announce that President Eisenhower will convene an international conference of scientists next spring, which will be open to Communist countries.

Main features of the proposed international uranium pool are:

Establishment of a special agency that will be linked to the UN but will not be part of it. The proposed body will be similar to the International Monetary Fund, International World Health Organization, and the International Food and Agriculture Organization.

Charter members of the new agency will be the U. S., Britain, France, Canada, Australia, Belgium and South Africa.

Membership will be open to Russia and its satellites. But Red China, East Germany and North Korea will be barred at the start.

The international atomic agency will be headed by a Director General selected by the member nations.

The American plan has been submitted to the other charter members and they have recommended minor changes.

Ambassador Lodge's address to the UN is scheduled for today, but may be delayed owing to the consultations now going on over these changes. Britain and France, particularly, are insisting on their views.

Both also are urging that the President's international conference of scientists be held in Europe rather than in Washington. Decision on that may be delayed until later. Dr. I. I. Rabi, Nobel laureate and Columbia University physicist, is advising the White House on both the American and foreign scientists who will be invited to this momentous world gathering.

Depot Worker Fatally Injured In Mishap At Service Station

Ruptured Liver Is Death Cause

TOBYHANNA — A man injured himself fatally in a fall at Hussar's Service Station here Saturday night.

He was Bernes Carter, 30, of 87 N. State St., Wilkes-Barre, an employee in the warehouses at the Signal Corps Depot.

Coroner Charles H. Rushmore said he died of a ruptured liver at about 10:45 the same night, at General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

Hussar said Carter's car was in the garage for repairs. Hussar himself started to leave the garage to get a drink of soda pop. He thought Carter may have started to follow him.

Hussar heard a cry, and saw Carter lying on his stomach across one of the front channels bridging an outdoor grease pit. It appeared to Hussar that Carter may have tried to jump the six-foot span between the channels, and slipped.

The garageman gave Carter a hand and helped him to his feet. Carter said his stomach hurt. Hussar drove him to Dr. E. O. Headrick of Mount Pocono.

After leaving the office Carter said he would be all right and asked Hussar to drive him home. "Instead, I took him to the hospital. It looked to me as though the man was in pain."

The ruptured liver was discovered at the hospital.

Carter was the son of Leonard and Elizabeth Bryant Carter, Baltimore, Md.

He was employed at the Signal Corps Depot here. He had been a Wilkes-Barre resident since his transfer from the Signal Corps depot in Baltimore.

Surviving are his wife, Mary Carter; parents, sister, Mrs. Dorothy Brown, Baltimore; two brothers, Leonard Jr., and William, both of Baltimore.

Services will be announced by Lanterman funeral home, East Stroudsburg.

Catholics Mark All Saints Day

At St. Matthew's Church in East Stroudsburg mass will be said at 6:15 and 9 a. m. today and again at 12:05 noon. At St. Luke's All Saints Day masses will be said at 7 and 8 a. m. and at St. John's Church in Bushkill at 7:30 a. m.

Car Collides With Wrecker Towing Away Damaged Auto

A CAR SMASHED into a wrecker towing one of two damaged cars away from a collision near East Stroudsburg early Saturday.

It was 2:10 a.m.—only the beginning of a long night for Troopers Peter Walsh and Evan R. Chaplin.

The damage started when the cars of Edward J. Tweedie, 39, East Stroudsburg RD2, and Robert W. Smith, 29, of 520 N. Courtland St., that borough, collided in passing about a thousand feet east of the borough line on Route 209.

A wrecker owned by B. Weber's garage was summoned. The wrecker hitched to the Tweedie car, and prepared to move out at 2:35 a.m.

At that moment a car operated by Harold F. Tittle, 27, Saylorburg RD1, bore down on the scene. Weber told police he saw the approaching car and tried to wave it down with his flashlight. No luck.

The car smashed into the front of the wrecker. Tittle was asleep at the wheel, police said.

Police began to total up damages: $300 to Tweedie's car; $650 to Smith's; and $800 each to Tittle's car and the wrecker.

After the names and addresses were straightened out and damage inspected, and after Tittle was treated at General Hospital for a forehead cut, it was about 3:20 a.m.—and police got another alert: a wreck eight miles east of the borough on Route 209.

At the scene the troopers discovered Erick L. Vrbel, 18, Wyoming, had been towing a truck behind his own truck by using a towbar. The bar had snapped, and the truck in the rear had run away. It went off the road and crashed into a tree, then turned over, police said. Damage was $2,525, with the truck reported demolished.

At the first accident scene, passing motorists saw the odd spectacle of a wrecker towing a wrecker towing a car, police said.

More than a trillion kilowatt-hours of electric power will be produced annually in the United States by 1964, experts predict. That's more than double estimated production for this year.

Aged Man Is Seriously Hurt In Crash

PALMERTON — An aged man was injured seriously in the collision of two cars five miles east of here at 11 a.m. Saturday.

At Palmerton Hospital is Charles Dieter, 76, Palmerton RD4, who was thrown from a car driven by his son, Earl J. Dieter, 49, same address, according to Leighton State police.

The Dieter car gulled out from an intersection in front of the auto of Mark P. Heydt, 30, Palmerton RD4, police said, and was shoved broadside into the wall of a small hotel.

The elder Dieter suffered cuts on the scalp, face, chest, and internal injuries. Heydt suffered cuts on the right knee, ribs and chest. Both injured were taken to Palmerton Hospital.

Damage was estimated as $250 to the Dieter car and $450 to the other.

Man Hurt, Cars Damaged In Collision

BOWMANSTOWN — Damages totalled $650 in the collision of three cars at 9:05 p.m. Saturday. One man was injured slightly.

Leighton troopers said the cars were all going west on Route 895.

The auto of John E. Behler, Weissport, struck the rear of one operated by Caleb E. Horwheh, 34, Leighton RD1; Horwheh's car struck the parked auto of Kenneth E. Strohl, Ashfield, and shoved it into a post, troopers said.

Robert McFarland, 27, Bowmanstown, passenger in the Behler car, suffered a small right knee cut and left thumb bruise, but required no medical treatment, police said.

Services for Edward L. Ryan, 65, of 79 N. Green St., East Stroudsburg, were held Saturday at St. Matthew's Catholic Church, East Stroudsburg.

Requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Harold G. Durkin, Rev. Francis Barrett and Rev. John Essel. Burial was at Laurelwood Cemetery, Stroudsburg.

Funeral services were Michael Chismar, Edward Monahan, Fred Lipe Sr., William Tarr, Clarence Norton Sr., and Clarence Norton Jr.

Bond Issue For Parking Up In Bangor

BANGOR — Although there are no local offices at stake here in tomorrow's general election, there is an item of community importance to be decided upon by ballot.

Voters will decide by their ballot whether or not the community will undertake a $30,000 bond issue for the development of a metered parking area in the heart of Bangor's business block.

The problem of a parking area has been the project of a Bangor Parking Authority created by the Bangor Council a little more than a year ago. The Authority, however, could make no headway in selling bonds. The merchants of Bangor pledged to purchase $10,000 worth of the bonds, but the Authority were unable to sell the remainder.

The Parking Authority, headed by Kenneth Masters, then appealed to the Bangor borough council for aid in the September meeting of the council. That is when the council decided to put the issue up to the electorate to decide.

From the Stroudsburg High School grounds, the parade will move directly down Main St. in Stroudsburg to the interborough bridge. From the bridge the marchers will proceed up Washington St. and S. Courtland St. to Crystal St. past the East Stroudsburg post office.

The parade then moves down Crystal St. to Washington, turns right and moves in front of the Lanterman funeral home office.

At Lanterman's building the judges will be stationed to review the passing parade.

Members of the judges' panel will be from the Junior Women's Club of the Stroudsburgs.

Boyertown Man Dies Of Heart Attack While Hunting Here

A 71-year-old Boyertown man collapsed and died of a heart attack while on a hunting trip in Paradise Township Saturday.

He was Harry J. Colver. He was accompanied on the hunting trip by his son, Rev. Harry Colver Jr., Bethlehem, and two other men.

Members of the hunting party said he had been complaining of some pain for a short period before his death. He became separated from the party.

When his son returned to look for him, the elderly man was found lying on the ground near the spot where he had last been seen.

Dr. Perry Stearns, deputy Monroe County coroner, was called to the scene. He said Colver had died of a heart attack.

The body was taken to Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home which is in charge of local arrangements. Services will be held this week in Boyertown.

The son, Rev. Colver, is married to the former Mary Dreher, of Stroudsburg.

Tom McCool Talks On Gun Safety

THOMAS MCCOOL, Henryville, gunsmith, was the speaker last week at a special all-high school assembly at East Stroudsburg. McCool, owner of one of the largest and most complete collections of guns in the State, conducted a thorough discussion of the role of firearms in U. S. history.

He traced the important part played by guns in the American revolution then outlined the improvements made in the pieces during the development of the U. S. Western frontier, from the "Kentucky" rifle, which was manufactured here in Pennsylvania, to the age of the Winchester.

Modern arms manufacture—the field of individual rifles—has reached its peak in the achievements of the Garand M-1, soldier-rifle which was carried by infantrymen in World War Two, he said.

At the conclusion of his address, McCool explained a series of safety rules governing the use of guns while hunting. The talk was a special pre-hunting season lecture sponsored by the high school rifle club.

Club adviser Charles Schaller introduced the speaker.

Eisenhower Wires Mikels On Election

PRESIDENT Eisenhower, in a telegram to LeRoy Mikels, Stroudsburg, expressed regret yesterday that he could not visit Pennsylvania during his four-state trip over the weekend.

Eisenhower said, however, that he was "speaking for Republican candidates everywhere." Mikels is the GOP candidate for U. S. representative from this district.

In a reply telegram Mikels said: "It is unthinkable to me that the voters of the 15th Congressional district would do other than give you, of all men, what you ask for, a man who has done more for the mothers and wives of this nation than any other living man."

A test conducted among New York City drivers showed that a quarter of them had faulty depth perception.

VOTERS OF MONROE COUNTY!

I would like to reply to the advertisement by the Democratic Committee in this paper under date of October 30th, in which was reproduced my letter to the Stroudsburg Business Men's Association of April 10, 1953.

It was definitely my sincere wish that the money required to meet the educational costs of our State could be raised in some other manner than through the enactment of a sales tax. There was never a question in my mind that a broad base tax was not needed. I objected to a sales tax because it placed the burden of collection on the merchants. The records in the House of Representatives in Harrisburg will disclose that I fought the enactment of a sales tax for five months, and agreed to vote for it, only after I was able to SECURE amendments eliminating shoes, clothing, foods, medicines, and all meals served in hotels and restaurants. This was the ONLY tax program upon which we were anywhere close to an agreement. It requires 105 votes to pass a bill in the house. These 105 votes were assured without my vote.

I DID NOT violate my promise to the Stroudsburg Business Men's Association. I did just what I promised to do. I DID "ALL IN MY POWER TO PREVENT THIS MEASURE FROM BECOMING A LAW".

Judging from the utterances and type of advertising that has come from my opposition, I do not believe that the people of Monroe County wish that type of representation in Harrisburg.

Your vote and support will be appreciated!

Sincerely yours,

Rep. John S. Shotwell

Signal Depot Turned Over By Engineers

ALL STRUCTURES in the $33-000,000 Tobyhanna Signal Depot construction project have been turned over officially to the U. S. Army Signal Corps. It was disclosed by Lt. Col. George W. Svoboda, resident engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers.

For all practical purposes, Colonel Svoboda said, the Signal Corps has occupancy of all buildings and utility services. He reported that the giant construction project is completed with the exception of minor clean-up items, such as rough grading, and finishing the interior of the administration building.

The finishing work on the administration building involves some interior partitioning and painting, and installation of asphalt tile on floors and sprayed asbestos ceilings. This week, Colonel Svoboda said, is expected to be completed about Nov. 10.

Acoustics in the administration buildings were so bad, the resident engineer said, that the sprayed asbestos ceiling was authorized to overcome the problem at the suggestion of Col. Alfred H. Anderson, depot commander. He disclosed further that the sprayed asbestos ceiling, partitioning and painting work will cost about $90,000.

A supplemental contract to Henkels & McCoy, Philadelphia, for construction of nine sentry stations along the perimeter of the fence encircling the depot also is about completed, he said.

A second supplement to the original depot job, awarded to the Acorn Construction Co. of Philadelphia, at a price of about $151,000, is expected to be completed the latter part of April.

This supplemental contract covers construction of a railroad engine house, a post engineer equipment shed and related utilities. Principal features include erection of a railroad engine house 190 by 47 feet in plan, by 22 feet high. A wing of 30 by 14 feet in plan and 11 feet high on one side will contain an office, storage area and toilets. The post engineer equipment shed will be 50 by 27 feet in plan by 13 feet high. Also included in the contract to the Acorn firm is construction of a road extension and a railroad extension, the latter enabling entrance by locomotives to the engine house.

Next Spring, Colonel Svoboda reported, a dust control project will be carried out, the design of which is now being done by Rinker & Kiefer, Stroudsburg architect-engineering firm. This job, expected to be started under Corps of Engineers contract to let on a competitive bid basis, covers placing of top soil throughout the area of the depot's buildings, and the planting of the various areas on the base. The planting, it is understood, will include grass seed in some areas and honeysuckle in others.

The resident engineer, who disclosed that he is under orders by the Corps of Engineers to report on Dec. 5 to the North Central Division, Corps of Engineers, Chicago, for new assignment, declared that the Corps of Engineers' resident engineers' office at the Tobyhanna project probably will be continued throughout next year. He said that at the present time there has been no successor named as yet for the resident engineer's post.

Merritt-Chapman & Scott Corp., New York, final phase contractor on the construction job, and the firm's subcontracting companies have a total of 196 construction workers employed on the project but this number is expected to dwindle in the days ahead to a very few.

The master operations building, the largest structure in the depot, is now in partial operation by the Signal Corps which is still awaiting delivery of some machinery and equipment for installation in the same. A feature of this building comprises a little railway system—known as a tow conveyor—which runs the full length of the hub of the building and its two giant wings.

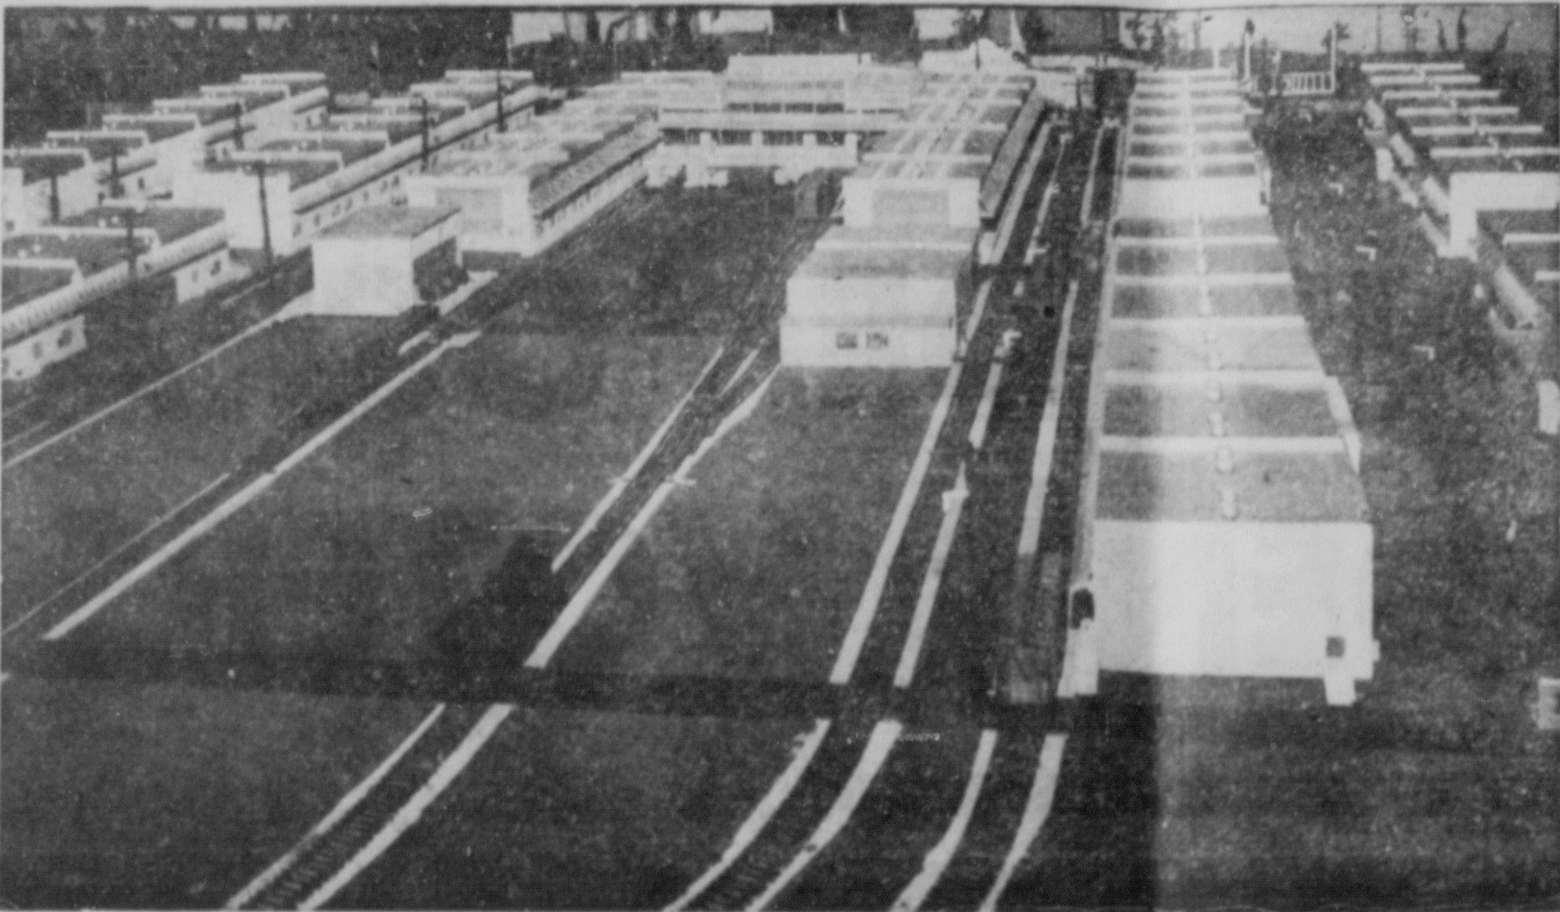

Asked if Hurricane Hazel caused any damage to the depot, Colonel Svoboda said it did, but that the damage was to minor items, such as sheet metal vents on top of the depot structures, windows and doors. He estimated the damage at a maximum of $5,000.

Retired Editor Honored

THE HOTEL STAFF of the Indian Queen hotel honored William P. Deering, former editor of the Record, and a veteran guest at the hotel, on Saturday afternoon with an informal party in recognition of his birthday. The birthday itself fell on Sunday but was observed a day in advance.

Mrs. Florence B. Eldredge, a well known novelist, formerly of New York City and Columbus, Ohio, assisted in carrying out the arrangements.

The event took the form of an informal ice-cream and cake lunch with a tremendous Halloween cake iced in the holiday colors as the piece-de-resistance. Mrs. Eldredge spoke briefly and the guest of honor responded. A feature was the singing of the Happy Birthday song and another the taking of pictures.

addition to a few changes decreed by the Signal Corp after buildings were completed. This is a photo of a replica of the giant depot.

People, Things Make Getting Lost Record

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (U)—People and things rolled up an astounding record for getting lost last week.

A man from Seattle was driving through Richmond on his way to Florida when he lost his way. He got out to find out where he was and then discovered he'd lost his car, his trailer and his wife. He wandered, he wandered up to a cop. Police searched and finally found car, trailer and wife for him. But then his wife told police that while her husband was lost she lost her wallet, pocketbook, glasses and false teeth.

Jr., seventh—Kathy Carlson, Earl Houck, Peter Godshalk, Mary Lou Reagle.

In Los Angeles a driver lost a number of falsies from his truck. While picking up the sponge rubber appliances he said it was worse than having a flat.

On the same day in the same city a man filed claim for $5,450 against the County Board of Supervisors. Claimed he'd lost his false teeth while in a hospital.

In Cranston, R. I., a man placed a $10 bet on a horse. The horse won, paying $205.50—but the man lost. He couldn't collect because he was a cop gathering evidence against the bookie with whom he placed the bet.

Did anybody ever wish he'd lost his school report card? Well, in Jacksonville, Fla., all the children in one school were so obliged by a thief who broke in and destroyed everybody's report card.

In Townsend, Mass., they lost the town fire engine — but found it later in the woods. In Kings Point, N.Y., a family lost its 8-month-old pet lion—but found it later, also in the woods.

Sugar beets are white, not red.

From

with a message for

MONROE COUNTY VOTERS:

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27, 1954

B. K. Williams, Chairman of Monroe County Republican Committee
86 East Broad St., East Stroudsburg, Penna.

Nothing would give me greater personal pleasure than to come to Pennsylvania to bring this message to you and to others in your state who believe with us in the efforts we are making to build an America strong and prosperous in a world at peace. But with only one free day available to me before November second, I am able to visit only a few states. So I must use this means to bring you these thoughts. Will you please convey to one and all in Pennsylvania my conviction that voting is not only a privilege of every citizen but his first duty. Only if every qualified voter casts a ballot can public servants have certain knowledge that their acts reflect the will of the people. This is the first essential of free government. Yet, I hear constantly about complacency and apathy toward this critical election. Friends tell me this is because the people are satisfied, on the whole, with the kind of government and kind of program they are getting—that many citizens go to the polls only when they are angry or apprehensive about the course of events. It is unbelievable to me that good government cannot command as much zealous support as bad government commands opposition. Let us, therefore, do everything we possibly can to persuade every voter to express himself on election day.

So let's roll up a tremendous vote—confident that the overwhelming majority of the American people support good government and will vote accordingly. My warm congratulations to you on your splendid work in our common cause. Between now and next Tuesday let us, with enthusiasm and the will to win, do the job that will drive us through to victory.

FACTS NOT SMEARS

Will you permit "Lies" to influence your vote on Nov. 2nd?

"The Lie"

The Republican party and its candidates told the people the "Sales Tax" (They call it "Consumers Education Tax") is used exclusively for educational purposes.

"The Truth"

Less than one-half of this "Sales Tax" money is used for educational purposes—the greater portion is used for health, assistance, welfare and departmental and COLLECTION expenses.

"The Lie"

The Republican party and its candidates would have you believe there is a question of patriotism of Senator George M. Leader, the Democratic candidate for Governor.

"The Truth"

Senator George M. Leader is a most loyal American Citizen who served his country well in World War II as an officer on the aircraft carrier USS Randolph in the Pacific area where he engaged in plenty of active battle service.

IF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY AND ITS CANDIDATES CAN NOT BE TRUTHFUL IN THEIR CAMPAIGN STATEMENTS, DO YOU WANT TO TRUST THEM TO RUN YOUR GOVERNMENT?

For truthful men to serve you—men who will give you A CHANGE IN HARRISBURG—with honest and efficient government.

Both Sides Claim Victory In Pennsylvania Election

Wood criticized the program as hitting corporations which he said would flee the state. The Republican candidate, however, has not answered Leader's request for details of the GOP tax program.

The governor has estimated 191 millions would have to be raised by the next Legislature if the sales tax is re-enacted; 303 millions, if not.

The statewide candidates, in addition to Wood and Leader, are: Lieutenant Governor—Frank F. Truscott (R); Roy E. Furman (D); Secretary of Internal Affairs—Mrs. Gaynelle M. Dixon (R); Miss Genevieve Blatt (D).

Judge of Superior Court (three to be elected)—Robert E. Woodside (R-D); Ralph T. Bell (R); George W. Griffith (R); Chester H. Rhodes (D) and F. Clair Ross (D).

For the first time, members of the House will be elected under a 1953 reapportionment law. The membership goes up from 208 to 210.

Twenty-five seats in the Senate—half of its membership—are also up for election.

Both chambers of the General Assembly were Republican-ruled in the 1953 session. Democrats claimed they will take over the House with a Democratic victory. However, nothing short of a Democratic landslide would oust Republican control of the Senate, since they got into the election with 16 GOP holdovers with nine Democrats. Since 26 votes constitute a majority, Republicans need elect only 10 Senators while Democrats need to pick up 17 Senators Tuesday.

President Eisenhower personally visited Pennsylvania to lift the Republican campaign. He played host at his Gettysburg farm for the statewide GOP ticket and Republican congressional candidates.

After endorsing all of them in an action unprecedented for him during the campaign, the president singled out six of the congressional aspirants as needing special help.

They were Rep. S. Walter Stauffer (19th district), York-Adams-Cumberland; Louis E. Graham (25th), Butler-Lawrence Beaver; John P. Saylor, (22nd) Cambria-Indiana - Armstrong; Hugh Scott (6th) Philadelphia; Edward J. Bonin (11th) Luzerne, and Joseph L. Carrigg (10th) Lackawanna - Wyoming-Sullivan - Susquehanna-Wayne-Pike.

For the Democrats, Adlai Stevenson brought national prestige to the state campaign. He pounded the unemployment issue as hard as did Leader.

There was even a dispute on the number unemployed. Leader fixed the figure at 377,000. Wood's last figure was 339,000, out of a work force of nearly four millions.

The two parties also laid scandal charges at the door of the opposition.

Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic state chairman, pointed to the indictment of Artemas C. Leslie, State Insurance Commissioner, and Fred P. Hare Jr., Fine's administrative assistant, on charges of forcing state workers to make primary campaign contributions. They and 13 others will be tried after election.

Wood mentioned the arrest of Democratic Mayor Thomas W. Flatley of Erie on bribery charges and said the action proved the Democratic party was infected with graft and corruption.

Current registration figures, down from 1952, give the Republicans a three to two edge.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh were felt to be pivotal by both parties.

The Philadelphia picture was especially confusing. Despite a heavy GOP registration preponderance, the Democrats carried the city by 161,000 in the 1952 presidential election. But a string of five years of Democratic victories in the Quaker City was snapped in last year's municipal election with a 23,000 GOP majority.

Both Republicans and Democrats now claim they will carry Philadelphia.

Heavily Democratic Allegheny County holds its key to the election on the basis of the size of the Democratic majority. Four years ago, the Democratic majority fell far below normal and enabled, in part, Gov. John S. Fine to squeak through by 86,000 votes.

Associated Press Writers Indicate Race At Tuesday's Election Apparently Close

Political fence sitters in West Virginia caution against classing Democratic Sen. Matthew M. Neely as a shoo-in for another term over Republican Tom Sweeney.

In New York, Democrats have revised downward their estimated victory margin for Averell Harriman, who is fighting it out with Sen. Irving M. Ives in a bitter, name-calling battle for the governorship. Harriman still is favored to win, by polls and many political authorities.

Rhode Island Democrats also are expected to win as usual in Senate, House and governor races—but it looks now as if the margins may be closer.

Polls in some areas have tabbed enough still undecided voters to tilt the balance either way.

What the effects will be of Eisenhower's personally launched campaign to "telephone your neighbor" and get out the vote, and of a corresponding Democratic door-to-door drive, nobody can say for sure. Party professionals offer partisan interpretations.

But in general, Eisenhower's last minute campaigning, and the stepped-up GOP effort everywhere, are regarded as more important factors in the electioneering.

A top Wisconsin Democrat said in a telephone interview:

"The Republicans have made some gains in the last week or two with the peace and communism themes. But I still say, as I did two weeks ago, that we will hold our two congressional seats, and pick up one from the Republicans."

and that we have a fighting chance for another. The only difference is that in the one district we may have a little less of a fighting chance."

George F. Rock, Democratic national committeeman for Colorado, where the President spends his summer vacations, said:

"I hate to admit it, but I think the Eisenhower appeals have had some effect."

It isn't all talk, either, that is figuring in the final phases of the campaign. In some small towns in Wisconsin, for example, signs have appeared in store windows suggesting: "Remember Korea when you vote on Tuesday."

And in West Virginia, rival signs put the campaigns into a capsule. The Democrats say: "Vote Democratic. The job you save may be your own."

In vital Senate races where party overtures seem most likely, the Democrats still appear to have fairly comfortable leads in Nevada, New Jersey and Wyoming. Should earlier indications of a Democratic victory in Kentucky and a Republican win in Ohio turn out to be wrong, the results still would cancel out. And the Democrats still would have a net gain of three Senate seats.

That would add up to Senate control in the new Congress.

Even though races in Montana, Colorado and Delaware now are rated closer, Democrats still are regarded as a bit better than 50-50 for keeping the seats they now hold.

In two states previously listed as tossups, Idaho and Oregon, Republicans are reported gaining.

REPRESENTATION or MISREPRESENTATION?

Below is an actual reproduction of a letter written by John S. Shotwell to the Stroudsburg Business Men's Association on April 10, 1953.

And On July 8th, 1953, John S. Shotwell Voted For THE SALES TAX!

The bill was passed by the House of Representatives by a margin of one vote over the required majority.

Regardless of your own opinion as to the merits of the Sales Tax, the fact remains that John Shotwell broke his written promise as set forth in the above letter... and he broke faith with his constituents, so many of whom had expressed to him their opposition to a sales tax.

Do you want a man whose word cannot be trusted, and whose promises are meaningless... a man who disregards the wishes of the people who have elected him... to represent Monroe County in the General Assembly? Your answer, naturally, is "NO!" And you can prevent a continuance of this era of false promises and misrepresentation when you go to the polls tomorrow.

Local Eagles Adopt Youth In W. Germany

STROUDSBURG Eagles have "adopted" a youth of West Berlin in Germany to sponsor his vocational training under Eagle auspices in a program to provide gainful occupations and build morale and democracy abroad, it was announced yesterday by Raymond Alliger, Aerie president.

At an Aerie meeting recently members voted to provide a carpenter's kit which will be used by a German youth for his apprentice training at Eagle House, West Berlin. Eagle House is a vocational training center established several months ago by the Fraternal Order of Eagles. In cooperation with Berlin authorities and the world relief agency, CARE, the name of the youth selected as the recipient of the carpenter's kit will be furnished by Stroudsburg Aerie, and it will maintain contact with its protegee and keep in touch with his progress.

"Eagles are availing themselves of an opportunity to help others by giving them the means to help themselves," said Alliger. "The vocational training our 'adopted' youth will receive, and other youths 'adopted' by other Eagle units throughout the United States and Canada, is a constructive program to build useful lives in the democratic tradition. The program will demonstrate abroad how democracy works, and strengthen it in a vital outpost against Communism. The program enables young men to learn a living in dignity and with self respect.

"After his apprentice training the youth sponsored by Stroudsburg Eagles will take an examination before a board of his profession, and after qualifying himself will be entitled to obtain work at full pay.

"It is hoped that in Berlin democracy's showplace in Europe, Eagle House will become a model for such enterprises in other parts of the free world," said Alliger. "By such programs, democracy will gain a host of new friends, who will benefit directly from the American way of life, and provide a powerful bulwark against any attempted inroads by Communism."

Ray Dudley

Ray Dudley Is Featured For Concert

PIANIST RAY Dudley, who will appear here on Wednesday night at the college auditorium, had an exciting summer due to the Coronation. Last year Ray composed a Coronation March, which he included on his recital program at London's Wigmore Hall.

When he returned to London this past spring just before the Coronation, he attended a dinner party for Princess Mary of the Royal Family. At the supper party was a member of Ray Dudley's recital audience who, remembering the Coronation March, asked him to play it for the Princess Royal.

This Ray obligingly did, and Princess Mary was moved to request that the March be recorded for presentation to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. Thrilled by this singular honor, Ray Dudley immediately recorded his work and it was presented to the Queen on behalf of the International Musicians Association.

The second honor that Dudley received was at his Coronation Concert in June. At this recital, which was attended by many Coronation personalities, he was presented with the Harriet Cohen Commonwealth Medal as the outstanding young musician of the Commonwealth in Coronation year. Ray Dudley will not soon forget these two singular honors. To receive the Commonwealth Medal and to be asked to record his own composition for the new Queen will live for a long time in the memory of this brilliant young pianist.

Questionnaires For Farmer Census Of Agriculture Are Distributed Through Mail

QUESTIONNAIRES for the 1954 Census of Agriculture are now in the mail and will be in the hands of local farmers within a few days, it was announced yesterday by Field Supervisor Dr. John J. Stoudt of the Philadelphia office.

The farm census questionnaires are being mailed from a central point with the distribution timed so that the report forms will arrive when enumerators will begin the field canvass.

The advance mailing is for the purpose of giving farm operators time to consult their records before filling in the answers required by the questionnaires and getting them ready for the census enumerators.

This procedure is designed to insure greater accuracy of reporting and to save time both for the farmer and the enumerator when the latter calls at the farm.

The 1954 Census of Agriculture questionnaire is designed to provide information on the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock production and inventories, selected farm facilities and equipment, selected farm expenditures, farm values, and mortgage debt.

On the average, each farmer is asked about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by simply checking "yes" or "no."

New Members Initiated By FFA Group

STROUDSBURG Future Farmers of America chapter initiated new members recently.

The new members are called "Green Hands." Initiation services for 13 boys were conducted — 10 active and three associate members.

Principal speakers were Wilmer Frisbie, county vocational agriculture adviser; Tom Rodgers, former Stroudsburg FFA member and Herbert Courtwright, last year's chapter president.

Frisbie discussed the various activities in which "Green Hands" will take part this year. Rodgers issued a challenge to the new members to move toward attaining the highest honors and goals of the FFA.

Rodgers was Stroudsburg chapter president in 1948-49. He earned the American Farmer's Degree — highest honor given by the national FFA — in 1951.

Active members taken into the group were Stephen Drake, Melvin Warfield, Arlett Gannon, Charles Gusset, Herbert Houser, Jack Courtwright, Lloyd Schaeffer, Jim Shafer, Jim Bush, Jack Loysen. Associate members admitted were Terry Bartleson, Donald Majestic and John Hagerty.

Parents attending the ceremonies were James Hagerty, Herbert Houser, Frank Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Majestic and daughter. Refreshments, consisting of sweet cider, donuts and pretzels, were served.

The Big "Pay-Off" In Monroe County

(Can You Answer This, Mr. John Shotwell?)

- (1) Daniel Mulligan of Pocono Pines was paid $20,000.00 by the State as right of way damages for the land and buildings.
- (2) The land that was lost was 275 feet x 77 feet.
- (3) Mulligan was given the 3 buildings located on the land which he moved to another location on his property.
- (4) The route of highway was changed and created 5 new intersections within 4 hundred feet.
- (5) This new road has created an S curve instead of eliminating one.
- (6) MR. SHOTWELL stated that all claims were settled. The facts are only two claims were settled, one to Mr. Mulligan in the amount of $20,000.00 and another, less than a thousand dollars, with possible future claims running to $750,000.00, with precedent of value having been set by the State. Or is this the BIG "PAY" OFF.
- (7) Black topped the drive way to old buildings in access of 150 feet paid for by the State.
- (8) It has been claimed that this so called highway improvement relieved a drainage problem and a traffic hazard. Actually the elevation would act as a dam across the entire area, and has created a dangerous S curve at intersection.

East Stroudsburg High School had no trouble with Coplay on Friday night, winning by a 52-6 margin despite a raw, damp air that hung over Memorial Stadium. Clouds of fog rolled over the football field from time to time, but even the elements couldn't halt the Cavaliers. Coplay was outmanned from the opening whistle and was in no position to fight back, as East Stroudsburg used more players in the game than reported for preseason practice at Coplay.

Coach Jack Kist used 30 players during the course of the game, while only 24 hopeful gridders reported to Coplay's coach Joe Steiner for preseason drills this year. East Stroudsburg would have used even more players if Nick Patella hadn't been ruled ineligible for scholastic difficulties and if Ronnie Newbaker hadn't come up with a pregame charley horse. Gary "Jeep" Beckman would have also seen considerable action, but the hard luck kid suffered a broken leg in Thursday's practice. Roger Strouse was also out with a bad ankle.

Even though the score was of a one-sided nature, Kist used all 30 players for great lengths of time, not using tactics made famous by some area coaches of running 22 substitutes into the game in the final two minutes of play. Kist had men running in and out of the game in streams almost throughout the contest. Some of the reserves smelled strong blood for the first time in their varsity careers were tough customers to handle.

Bob "Red" Kupiszewski's three first-half touchdowns brought his season's total to 11. He ran 70 yards for a fourth but the play was recalled and the Cavaliers penalized for clipping. Kupp also accounted for two extra points this year to bring his present total of 68, 10 shy of the scoring record held by Dick Merring, now regular left halfback on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College squad. Merring scored 13 touchdowns during the 1952 campaign in which Eastburg won eight and lost only one game.

The fact that East Stroudsburg won over Coplay insured the Cavaliers of a successful campaign. With two games remaining, against Nazareth and Stroudsburg, the Klismen can't finish any worse than 5-0, with five wins and the same number of setbacks. This is the same team that the street corner experts were saying wouldn't win more than four and probably only two games all season. The Cavaliers own decisions over Hellertown, Slatington, Pen Argyl, Lehigh and Coplay.

Friday night's crowd was one of the smallest to watch a grid battle at Memorial Stadium in recent years. Bad weather and the calibre of opposition were undoubtedly the reasons for the small turnout of fans and apparent lack of interest in the contest. Yet some of the real fans remained to the final whistle, despite the bone chilling temperatures. The enclosed press box perched atop the grandstand made the game much more bearable for those fortunate to have a seat inside the modern enclosure.

Bill Hudack, one of the most active members of the Varsity "E" Club, did a fine job of washing the windows of the press box. He may be open for bids. Friday's contest was the last night game of the present season at Memorial Stadium. The next game is an afternoon battle with Nazareth on Saturday, November 13. This is a busy football day for Monroe County fans, as Stroudsburg and Northampton play, at Gordon Giffels Field and East Stroudsburg State Teachers College tangles with Cheyney, on Normal Hill, on the same date.

Last Friday's contest was a tribute to head coach Kist and his assistants, namely Dick Forster, Del Davis and Mike Jacobella, for the job they have turned in down through the years. It wasn't long ago that Coplay teams, no better than the one we watched in action Friday night, used to defeat East Stroudsburg. Coplay may have been a little rougher on a dry field. The wet turf and even wetter ball made it tough for the aerial minded visitors to travel their favorite air lanes.

Coplay played with a tremendous amount of spirit against the Cavaliers, even though they were hopelessly outclassed and doomed to their fourth straight defeat. The youngsters undoubtedly know that they won't win a game all season, yet they snap out of the huddle and march up to the scrimmage line like a winning team.

Catasauqua's Third Period Spurt Nips Stroudsburg

Mountaineers Hold Edge In Statistics

TWO QUICK Catasauqua High touchdowns in the third period enabled the Rough Riders to squeeze out a thrilling 13-12 football decision over Stroudsburg High before a small, half frozen crowd at Gordon Giffels Field Saturday night.

Stroudsburg did everything but finish on the long end of the count and for more than half the game appeared assured of this honor too. Catty came to life for five minutes and that was enough to completely change the complexion of the game, even though Stroudsburg's attack netted 12 first downs.

to two for the Rough Riders. The Mountaineers dominated virtually all of the statistics, but a long run and a break enabled Catty to hold the deciding point edge.

Stroudsburg, playing with the steam and spirit that made the Mountaineers famous earlier this season, swept Catty off its feet through the first half and a portion of the third period.

The Mountaineers marched 70 yards for a touchdown the first time they had the ball, with Burt Kleinle's running and Paul "Doc" Lim's passing sparking the attack. Catty seemed to have stopped the Mountaineers on the visiting 18, but Lim faded back and shot a bullet pass to Doug Shook. The big end made the catch and raced five yards into the endzone for the touchdown. A bad pass from center ruined the extra point try and the home team held a 6-0 edge.

There was no further scoring in the opening half, although the Mountaineers advanced as deep as the Catasauqua 15 in the second period.

Stroudsburg jumped into a 12-0 lead in the early seconds of the third round when Lim pitched to Dave Nevil, the entire play covering 50 yards. The aerial traveling 30 yards and the hard working home town end ran the remaining 20. Shook's placement was wide of its mark and the Mountaineers were in front by a 12-0 count.

Bill Columbo sparked Catty to its initial touchdown when he raced Stroudsburg's third period kickoff back 60 yards to the host's 20-yard stripe. Mike Dulik, playing despite a painful face and head injury, tossed a pass the George Janney, who made a fine catch in the endzone for the touchdown.

Terry Wagner, lanky Catty end, added what proved to be the winning point from placement, although the visiting brown and white clad charges of Coach Bernie Kuczyński trailed 12-7 at the time. Stroudsburg received the kickoff and advanced the ball to its own 35, where the drive stalled. Lim went back to punt, but a wild pass from center rolled past the Stroudsburg quarterback. He raced back to the five-yard line to retrieve the ball and was tackled at that spot.

In two plays the Rough Riders had their touchdown as Bill Columbo blasted over from the three. A hard charging Stroudsburg line blocked Wagner's placement attempt to make the final score read 13-7.

Catty, visibly weak on pass defense throughout the game, plugged its weakness during the last four minutes of play. The visiting defense intercepted two passes, knocked down two and another was dropped by a Stroudsburg receiver, as the last seconds of play ticked off the clock.

Bangor Deals First Loss To Nazareth

NAZARETH—An inspired Bangor High School grid machine overwhelmed a surprised, previously undefeated Nazareth High School eleven in a stunning upset here on Saturday afternoon, 19-0.

Displaying plenty of spirit and drive the Maroon and White took the high-flying Blue Eagles to task. The Slaters displayed a fine ground attack featuring quick-opening thrusts over tackle and scintillating end runs.

Upsets Mark Action In Pro Circuit

WITH only 33 seconds remaining to play the Chicago Bears upset previously unbeaten San Francisco yesterday and shuffled the 49ers into a tie with the defending champion Detroit Lions for the Western Division lead in the National Football League.

The Bears, finally staging their overdue comeback in the NFL, knocked over the once-tied 49ers on the performance of rookie end Harlan Hall, a 6-foot-3 lad who snared four touchdowns passes, including a 66-yard payoff catch with 25 seconds left for a 31-27 victory. San Francisco's failure ended the Lions to gain a share of the lead on the strength of their 27-21 triumph over the Los Angeles Rams yesterday. Both big games were played on the West Coast.

The Bears jumped from fifth into a third place tie with the Green Bay Packers in the Western Division. They replace the Rams, who fell to fifth.

Upsets were the rule rather than the exception throughout the NFL this weekend and the form reversals left the Eastern Division all knotted up, too. The Philadelphia Eagles, New York Giants and Pittsburgh Steelers each had a chance for an undisputed lead in the East, but each muffed the opportunity and wound up in a three-way tie for first place—just as they were a week ago. Each has a 4-2 record.

The Cleveland Browns, looking once again like the machine that made them the scourge of the pros in the recent past, disposed of the Giants with precision 24-14 yesterday while the heretofore winless Chicago Cardinals knocked off the Steelers 17-14. Philadelphia went down 37-14 to the Green Bay Packers Saturday night.

Washington's Redskins, like the Cards shackled without a victory previously, also snapped out of their slumber to defeat the Baltimore Colts yesterday 24-14. The Redskins thus tied the Cards for the cellar in the Eastern Division with a 1-5 record while the Colts settled deeper at the bottom of the Western Conference on their 1-5 mark.

The Cardinals' totally unexpected success against the Steelers, who had upset the Eagles the previous week, was the work of Willie Matson, La Mar McLean, Paul Barry and Pat Summerall. Matson reeled off a 91-yard kickoff return and hauled in an 18-yard pass from McLean for two of the Chicago touchdowns and Summerall kicked a 24-yard field goal that proved the margin of the upset.

Tobin Rote's three touchdown passes to Max McGee told the story in the Packers success over the Eagles. Green Bay, which now has won three straight, also took advantage of two pass interceptions.

Vic Janowicz's 15-yard field goal gave the Redskins their victory over the Colts.

Martinmen Earn Win Number Five

KUTZTOWN—East Stroudsburg State Teachers College rolled to its fifth football victory of the campaign here on Saturday by a 32-6 margin over a stubborn Kutztown contingent that battled the highly favored Warriors to a 6-6 deadlock at halftime.

The once beaten ESSTC charges of Coach Gene Martin scored first and last, coming up with 26 of the winning points in the second half.

ESSTC broke into the scoring column in the first period on the strength of Charley Shaw's throwing ability and the catching power of Warren Hoeffner. The Shaw to Hoeffner aerial traveled 11 yards and gave the Warriors a 6-0 lead.

Denny Roth, who has had great success at adding extra points this season, missed on his only attempt Saturday. Roth suffered an ankle injury shortly after the first touchdown and was forced from the contest.

Kutztown, captained by Stroudsburg's Dick Campeotto in this game, came back to even matters late in the opening round when Bangor's George Dallesandro hurled a pass to Mike Demanski, glue fingered end. The play covered 32 yards. The extra point try met with failure and the game remained deadlocked until the second half.

East Stroudsburg broke the game wide open with 20 points in the third period and then added an insurance touchdown in the fourth round.

Shaw passed to Wilmont Smith for the first TD of the period, the play covering 16 yards. Shaw also passed to Lew Judy for the extra point and the Warriors were in front to stay, 13-6.

Every member of the crowd jumped to his feet a few moments later as Shaw electrified the gathering with an 85-yard punt return good for the visiting teams third touchdown. The extra point attempt failed.

Hoeffner returned to the scoring act by banging seven yards for the third six-pointer of the third quarter. Whitehall's Charley German added the extra point from placement to give the Martinmen a safe, 26-6 advantage.

Dick Merring, former East Stroudsburg High star, wound up the scoring for the day when he intercepted a pass on the ESSTC 45 and ran 55 yards for a touchdown. A bad pass from center brought disaster to the final extra point try.

ESSTC now holds victories over Millersville, Ithaca, Mansfield, West Chester and Kutztown, while the lone loss was a 17-13 affair at the hands of once beaten Shippensburg.

The Warriors play Cortland State Teachers College next Saturday, at Cortland, N. Y.

Six Warriorettes Honored In College Field Hockey Tourney

WEST CHESTER—Six members of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College field hockey team were honored here at the Philadelphia District Field Hockey Tournament on Saturday.

Although the Warriorettes, coached by Katherine Griffith, lost two of three tournament games, they earned positions on the second, third and fourth all-tournament squads, and also won two honorable mention positions.

Margorie Morrell, center forward and co-captain of the ESSTC squad, was named to the second all tournament team, while Nancy Noll, left wing, won a spot on the third team.

Margaret Rothermel, right inner, and Beatrice McLaughlin, left halfback, were placed on the fourth team. Honorable mention spots went to Nancy Almond, left inside, and Virginia Eisenbrey, right half.

Those selected for the various all tournament teams held a practice session at Drexel yesterday.

Five goal keepers will be selected following tryouts next Sunday, also at Drexel. Although only four teams are selected, a spare goalie is carried for protection against injuries. Patricia Zimmerman, goalie for the Warriorettes, is very much in the running for a goal tending spot on one of the all-tournament teams.

A total of 45 all-tournament players are selected and nine were named to the honorable mention list by coaches of the nine tournament teams.

ESSTC, undefeated in regular intercollegiate field hockey action this season, dropped a 1-0 decision to Ursinus and a 2-0 verdict to West Chester during the tournament before taking the measure of the University of Pennsylvania, 2-0.

Nancy Noll and Nancy Almond scored the goals against Penn.
